

At Reid Physical Therapy, the health and well-being of our patients is the highest importance to us. We want you to know that we are here for you and are taking all necessary precautions regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19). Following CDC guidelines and Department of Health protocol during this time is of the utmost importance to be able to provide the essential services of Physical Therapy.

At this time, we are continuing to practice cleaning and disinfecting protocols, while increasing the frequency and depth of those efforts. We are sanitizing/disinfecting between each patient - this includes but is not limited to our treatment tables, door knobs, exercise/gym equipment, and all hard surfaces.

Along with ensuring our employees and patients take all appropriate precautions, we are utilizing the washing stations in the treatment rooms and gym area. Employees are washing hands between each patient contact as well as wearing masks and gloves during patient treatment sessions. In addition, we are also asking all our patients to wash their hands immediately upon check-in.

In efforts for patient privacy and social distancing, we are utilizing our private treatment rooms. If you prefer to remain in the private room for the entirety of your treatment, then that option will be made available to you.

It is our pleasure to continue serving you during this time of uncertainty and hope that Reid Physical Therapy is a place of recovery, restoration, and rehabilitation for you.
